EXEMPTION BOARD REPORTS NUMBER OF DELINQUENTS

The Bourbon County Board of Exemption is issuing a list of the delinquents to whom questionnaires for the selective draft service have been sent, and no replies received. Anyone knowing of the whereabouts of any of these men will do them a favor by notifying the Exemption Board, also the men themselves and save the latter considerable trouble.

All men called for the service, whether they are in active service or not should fill out their questionnaires and send them in promptly to the Exemption Board at their headquarters in the court house. Anyone knowing the present address or whereabouts of these men should get in communication with them at once and with the local Board.

Failure to respond to the questionnaires is a grave offense, as it will subject the men to one year's imprisonment and the loss of valuable rights with immediate induction into the military service at expiration of the year. Quite a number have so far failed to send in their questionnaires. Quite a number of men who have not yet received their papers have been coming to the Board and asking if their questionnaires has been mailed. No worry from this source should be felt by any registrant until after January 10, 1913. If after that date they have received no questionnaire they should appear before the local Board and have the matter looked into.

Up to the present time more than two-thirds of the questionnaires have been sent out. The list of those from whom no response had been received, and which was printed in Friday's issue of THE BOURBON NEWS, represented three days' work over by the clerical force of the Board. Cards have been mailed out to the respective registrants telling them which class they have been placed in, so it is a very short time from the time the questionnaire is returned until the registrant knows his respective class. He may though still appear for deferred classification to the District Board at Lexington, on either an industrial or agricultural claim. Advice in filling out the questionnaires is given free by the legal advisory Board in session each day at the court house. Following is an additional list of the registrants up to date to whom questionnaires have been sent, but from whom no responses have been received. If any of their friends or relatives know of their whereabouts they should immediately communicate with them:

MASONS ELECT OFFICERS.

At the annual election of officers held by the members of Paris Lodge No. 2, F. & A. M., at the Masonic Temple, at their regular meeting, the following were selected to fill the chairs for the ensuing terms: Master—Dr. J. A. Orr; Senior Warden—Mr. Peale Collier; Junior Warden—Dr. Raymond R. McMillan; Treasurer—Dr. M. H. Dailey; Secretary—Mr. H. H. Davis; Tyler—J. Samuel Martin.

At the conclusion of the business meeting and election of officers, the members of the lodge and visiting brethren adjourned to the Croisdale Cafe, where a bountiful repast, comprising nearly everything obtainable at this season, was served in most excellent style.

THE NEWS force returns thanks for a generous remembrance on this occasion from Mrs. Croisdale and the lodge officials. Our appreciation was best shown by the fact that the trays went back entirely empty.

DOING OF CITY COUNCIL.

With the last meeting of the City Council held Thursday night, the term of Mayor John T. Hinton, who has so ably filled the office of Chief Executive for five terms, came to an end, and that worthy official laid down his official cares to his successor, Police Judge E. B. January, and retired to private life, though still retaining an active interest in everything pertaining to the good of the city.

The Council went through the regular routine business. A lot on Parrish avenue was purchased from Mr. Hal Woodford for $283 for the purpose of straightening the avenue. The monthly allowance of $20 for gasoline to propel Chief of Police Link's automobile was lopped off; the Chief protesting, with promise to resort to courts. Councilmen Nichols, Merringer and Doyle were appointed a committee to get bids on a combination auto and patrol wagon to be jointly used by Police Chief Link and Fireman Chief Lancaster. Council agreed to purchase regulation uniforms for members of police and fire departments. Mr. Robt. Lusk was elected patrolman vice Grant Overby, declined. Mr. Geo. B. Minter was unanimously elected City Assessor. Councilmen Veatch, Merringer and Kiser were elected committee to take an inventory of city property at fire department and the city rock quarry. The salary of City Foreman Mallanay was fixed at $85 per month. Mr. Arthur B. Hancock appeared before the Council and stated that the $46,000 voted at the school bond issue election was now in bank to the credit of the City Treasurer, and asked for an order transferring the fund to the City Board of Education, so that the money might be apportioned among the various Paris banks until ready for the construction of the proper building.

The first regular meeting of the new Council at which the new Mayor, Judge January, will preside, will convene on Thursday night, January 10.

THE FURNISHINGS ASSURED FOR COLORED ANNEX AT HOSPITAL

Pledges to raise the sum of $900 needed to assure the furnishings and equipment for the colored annex to the Massie Memorial Hospital, in Paris, were given at a meeting of thirty-five representative colored citizens and members of the Board of Trustees of the institution, held in the Superintendent's office of the hospital Friday.

Several years ago the sum of $1,685 was raised by the colored people of the city and county for the purpose of furnishing the equipment and supplies for the new annex, but this sum was found to be insufficient. The pledges secured at the meeting Friday assures the completion of the work. These pledges were obtained by the earnest solicitation of some of the best-known and capable workers among the colored people.

The new annex for colored patients with quarters for colored nurses, will cost $15,000. The work was begun sometime ago, but the arrival of bad weather held it up. The annex will be devoted to the benefit of the colored people of the city and county exclusively.

IS IT ANY WONDER THERE IS SHORTAGE OF COAL?

Tired of the sight of coal, George Farmer, a coal miner of Jenkins, Ky., came to Detroit. Seven days was the period of time it took the train on which he rode to make the trip.

A short time ago he left the mines and boarded the "losers" Pullman. He slept on coal at night and during the days counted a total of 19,920 loaded cars of coal. While talking to B. J. Sand, director of the employment bureau at the old Federal building, who got him a job as a coal miner, Farmer said:

"I counted 340 cars in Benham, Ky.; 248 in Jackson, Ky.; I saw cars in a line three miles long at Revenna, Ky.; 817 in Winchester; 5,400 in the Cincinnati and Covington yards; 2,400 in Bellfountain, O.; 6,300 cars in and outside of Toledo."

The past week has seen the most extensive movement of coal over the lines of the Louisville & Nashville railroad in several months. It is estimated by railroad men that at least 1,200 heavily loaded cars of fuel have been moved from sidetracks at Patio, south of Winchester, to the Covington yards.

Practically all the coal which has just been moved was embargoed by the northern railway lines and when it was impossible for the other lines to handle it, nothing remained to be done but place it on the sidetracks. A large amount of the fuel has been taken over by coal merchants in Kentucky, who, being without supply, took advantage of the Fuel Administrator's offer on the basis of a prior billing.

TO-DAY A LEGAL HOLIDAY.

To-day, New Year's Day, January 1, being a legal holiday, the banks and postoffice will be closed all day.

The usual regulations will obtain at the postoffice. The general delivery window will be open from 11:30 to 12:30, as will the stamp and parcel post windows. No business whatever will be transacted in the registry, money order and postal savings departments. There will be no rural delivery, but the carriers will be on duty at stated periods to deliver mail to patrons who call for same. There will be one collection in the afternoon.

ENCOURAGING NEWS FROM THE STATE FUEL ADMINISTRATOR

Mr. Jas. H. Thompson, Chairman of the Bourbon County Fuel Committee, is in receipt of the following letter from State Fuel Administrator W. B. Bryan, of Louisville, which is self-explanatory:

LOUISVILLE, KY, Dec. 29, 1917. Mr. James H. Thompson, Chairman, Federal Fuel Committee, Paris, Ky.

Dear Sir:—This acknowledges receipt of your favor of the 26th inst.

I note what you state with reference to the seriousness of the coal situation in your county, and assure you of my very best efforts in endeavoring to give you some relief. On account of priority order No. 5, which gives preference to railroad fuel and by-product plants, both as regards supply and movement, it makes it extremely difficult at this time to secure cars for loading.

Everything possible is being done by this office to have this order rescinded or cancelled until which time there is very little likelihood of any coal being shipped for domestic purposes.

I just received word from Washington that priority order No. 5 will either be modified or cancelled in the next day or two. When this shall have been done, I feel sure that your needs can then be taken care of through the dealers regular source of supply.

Assuring you of my every co-operation in this time of National emergency, I remain,

Yours very truly,

W. B. BRYAN,

Federal Fuel Administrator, Ky.

USE DIRECTORY; CALL BY NUMBER; SAVE TROUBLE.

If users of telephones would reflect a moment or could actually know the trouble they cause by calling for names of subscribers or other parties over the phone, instead of consulting the directory and asking by number, they would consult the directory and save trouble.

In this connection the managers of the local telephone exchanges, Mr. J. J. Veatch, of the Paris Home Telephone Co., and Mr. H. H. Floyd, of the Cumberland Telephone Co., state that the greatest trouble their operators experience is with parties who call for some one by name instead of using the directory and calling by number. One exchange now has four of its best operators on the sick list. Two operators have been brought over from Georgetown to help in the work, and while they are experienced, they cannot be supposed to know the names of all the subscribers on the line, hence they are experiencing their share of trouble with telephone users who persist in calling by name instead of by number.

Managers Veatch and Floyd ask the public, in order to keep the service at its best, and to assist the operators, to heed this request, which will be helpful all around. If John Smith's phone number is 41144, call for that number, and get quick service, instead of calling the operator, and saying: Please give me Mr. John Smith, who lives on Main street, somewhere just beyond the corner around Eighth street in the house, Mr. Blank: used to live in." How in the name of the Almighty would a new operator know what connection to make?

HOUSEBREAKER ARRESTED

In Judge McMillan's Court, John Wilson, a Millersburg negro, was held over to the grand jury on a charge of breaking into the warehouse of Mrs. Neppie Rigdon, at Millersburg, and stealing two cow hides. Wilson, it was alleged, disposed of the hides to the junk firm of Munich & Wides, at Paris.

Mrs. Rigdon called Chief Link over the phone and gave a description of the man she suspected of the theft. The officer found Wilson in Paris and placed him under arrest. The hides were recovered.

REGULAR MEETING OF HEALTH AND WELFARE LEAGUE.

The regular monthly meeting and the first meeting for the New Year, of the Bourbon County Health and Welfare League, will be held in the County Court room, in the court house, at 2:30 p. m., next Thursday, Jan. 3. A full attendance is urged.

In Lexington, after a long illness of kidney trouble, will be held at the family home, 330 Walnut street, in Lexington, at one o'clock this (Tuesday) afternoon, with services conducted by Rev. F. J. McIntyre. The body, accompanied by the funeral party, will be brought to Paris, following the services at the home. The interment will take place in the Paris Cemetery at 2:45 o'clock. The pallbearers will be Isaac Roberts, Frank Burton, James Burke, James Taylor, Judge E. B. January and Homer Kiser.

Mr. Wilder was a member of a large family of the name, nearly all of whom have been connected with railroad business in various capacities. He was a native of Louisville, but had been a resident of Paris for twenty-four years, taking service with the Louisville & Nashville as brakeman. By strict attention to business he won his way up from the ranks, and previous to his illness had been one of the best-liked conductors on the L. & N. His father died about a year ago. Mr. Wilder was a nephew of Mr. George W. Wilder, yardmaster of the L. & N. at Paris.

He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Judie Oldson, of Paris, one brother, Mr. Abram Wilder, a member of the Louisville police force, and one sister, also a resident of Louisville.

EDITORIAL MUSINGS.

The New Year of 1918.

A new year is here. It is a time for invoice. Business men take an invoice of their stock. Wouldn't it be business for you to take one of yourself? Life, each life, is a business. Have you gained or lost last year? Have you used the talents that have been given you so as to gain other talents? Is there any prospect of your being placed over ten cities of five cities or one city? Have you declared any dividends in the way of loving and helping others, and have you added anything to the capital stock of your character? These are pertinent questions that press us all for an answer.

As you turn the corner into the new year, look back a minute over the road you have been traveling the past year. It seemed a long way when you started out, but it has been traveled at last. See the line of that road ever winding on, while twisting here and there. Do you remember that boggy place into which you strayed? How you promised yourself in your better moments, "I will turn over a new leaf." Have you been true to yourself? If not, once more before you step out into the pure New Year, renew your promises to your better nature. Don't stay, but linger near the pleasant outlooks, keep near the bits of high ground where you breathe purer air and can see afar off Heaven's high hills of blue, make the motive pure work for the object. Be diligent in seeking the better ways and in twelve more short months, take another retrospective glance and see how much pleased you will be with yourself, how much more of goodness and genuine worth this will seem to possess.

The days, weeks and years slip away like water in a running stream. Time's great clock never loses a moment. Relentlessly, surely the moments pass, and our eager hands are not able to detain them. We cannot keep back the flying years, but we can and should keep the blessings they bring. Hold fast to the lessons they have taught. Keep the memory of their joys. Enrich every day of life with the garnered wealth of the days behind. The years pass, but they leave their treasure with us, if our hands and heart are open to receive them, so as with one hand we shake farewell to the last year, let us stretch out the other hand to greet and welcome the coming year.

If you find it so difficult to keep your New Year's resolutions, perhaps it would be a good idea to make a few bad ones this time, for a change. For instance, you might resolve to be cross to your wife (if you have one) every day during the year, and then give her gentle words and loving kisses instead. You can thus be consistent with your past record, and possibly be a better man when another year rolls around.

New Year Resolutions.

I will start the New Year right by subscribing for THE BOURBON NEWS, the liveliest country paper in Central Kentucky.

I will get up and dress when the breakfast bell rings.

I will not complain when everything does not suit me.

I will treat my wife as politely as though she was a perfect stranger.

I will go out by myself after tea, in order that my family may enjoy the tranquil and improving pleasure of a long, uninterrupted evening in the quiet sanctity of a happy home.

I will strive to be more thoughtful for my own comfort, that others, seeing me happy, may also endeavor to be contented.

I will not spend too much money this year on the useless frivolities of life.

I will endeavor to impress upon my family the duty of greeting, with cheerful voices and laughing faces, the father of a family when he returns home, wearied with the depressing cares and labors of a long business day.

I must be more unselfish and take better care of myself that I may long be spared to be the joy and light of the home which it has pleased an appreciative Providence to bestow upon me.

I will pay my church dues this year if I have to deny myself a new overcoat, and my children have to go without shoes. I feel that we have not heretofore sufficiently denied ourselves in little luxuries for the sake of maintaining a good appearance at church.

A HERO EVERY DAY.

When the United States ship Alcedo was torpedoed in November in the war zone, George A. Collier, a second-class fireman of the navy, was on watch in the engine room under instructions as mechanic's mate. He was just at that time taking up duties that would mean, if successfully handled, bringing him up another step in the service. The kind of stuff he is made of was shown when just as soon as the torpedo struck and was followed by an explosion he remained cool and knew exactly what to do. Despite the fact that he was standing in water up to his knees, the sea having rushed in through the rent torn by the torpedo, he stopped the main engine and then deliberately raised the safety valve on the main engine by the hand gear. Thus without regard to his own personal safety and when in the greatest danger of going down with the ship he stuck to his post and performed his duties. He has been commended for this devotion to duty in a letter written by the Secretary of the Navy. Fireman Collier is a son of W. T. Collier, of Morrisport, La.

OPEN GRATE FIRE HELD WASTEFUL.

The open grate coal fire stands indicted. It gives cheer and companionship as well as heat, the fuel administration admits, but it is "inefficient" and wasteful. That is sufficient reason for the administration's stigma. And lovers of ease taken before the romantic flames in an open hearth are asked to use wood or a more practical coal "jumbo" heater. The fuel administration said:

"The present fuel situation suggests that the grate should be filled with coal much less often than in the past. It should be used when only a little heat is needed for a short time, and it should be fed on waste wood as much as possible. The flickering flames of a smaller fire may be made sufficient to excite the fancy rather than the scorch and the roar of too full a fireplace."

TROUSERS FOR WOMEN?

Will women wear trousers? That grim question has long been hotly debated. Since the war, trousers have become realities to those women who are doing men's work in order that they may be released for fighting. In Paris, however, trousers for women have more than a strictly utilitarian use.

The Paris correspondent of Harper's Bazar writes, in the January issue: "More and more trousers are being worn indoors instead of robes that cling and cling and cling. Fashioned of the richest of tissues are these trouser-frocks—trousers of gorgeous metallic stuffs below jackets of soft velvets, trousers of velvet below coats rich with embroideries, and exquisitely filmy mouselines. In the salons of Marthe Guthier in the rue des Capucines, there is a creation of putty-colored velvet embroidered most decoratively with rose and blue thread—the square Chinese coat falling ungirdled with rose and blue thread—the square Chinese coat falling ungirdled over embroidered velvet trousers of the straight variety."

TRAINING AIRPLANE GUNNERS.

The great aviation school at Toronto has devised a most ingenious scheme for training aviators in the use of the machine gun. Two apprentice flyers are sent up to fight under all the conditions of actual warfare. They make every effort to aim and fire their machine guns at each other, only in place of bullets, the gun is fitted with camera lens and film. Every pull of the trigger snaps a picture. If the shot is a "hit" a picture of the "enemy" airplane appears on the film; if a miss, the film is blank. By examining the strip of film afterward, it is possible to tell exactly how many hits each man made and how accurately he was "shooting."

THE LAPS ORGANIZE.

An unusual venture in representative government was made by a recent conference of 100 Lapps in Northern Sweden. These delegates represented the whole nomadic people, and their purpose was to frame a united protest against certain laws affecting their reindeer herds. The Lapps rarely have any settled habitation, moving from place to place after the herds, and often coming into hostile contact with the settled Scandinavian farmers. The law of Sweden requires the Lapps to pay fine and damages when their reindeer damage crops, and it was to secure a modification of this statute that the Lapps held a representative conference.

THE GRAPE BLIGHT.

A disease imported from America almost ruined the grape and wine industry of Europe, when the grape phylloxera left these shores and fastened on the European vines. Only the most heroic measures held the pest in check. Now an Italian scientist announces that the phylloxera in Europe has developed beyond any point that it ever reached in its native America, going so far as to produce different species peculiar to different varieties of European grapes. Some of these newly developed species are harmless with respect to all but one or two varieties of grape vine, whereas the original phylloxera attacked them all about equally.

PRISONER DISCOVERS PROCESS.

An important new process for extracting petroleum from the enormous banks of oil-bearing shale of certain Western States is indicated in announcements from Nevada. Such a process, if successful, would help greatly in solving the gasoline problem. The new process, which is now being tested, was developed by a prisoner in the Nevada State prison. A special pardon was granted him to give him an opportunity to continue his chemical work.

Does Not Reduce the Price.

A pipe has been invented which fills itself as fast as the tobacco in the bowl is consumed. How Mark Twain would have appreciated this modern convenience! While Mr. Clemens was a young man, it is said, he contrived a pipe, consisting of a can of tobacco placed on the floor, to which a long rubber tube was attached. Then he would light the whole can and smoke in bed.—Exchange.

Who Gets the Kiss?

"Since you worked your examples so nicely," said the pretty teacher, "I shall give you a kiss." "Teacher, I didn't know there was to be a reward," responded the honest urchin. "It's only fair to tell you that my big brother did them sums."—Life.

When the Kaiser pulled the trigger in 1914 he did not know the kick of the gun was going to put autocracy out of business.

UNCEASING MISERY

Some Paris Kidney Sufferers Get Little Rest or Comfort.

There is little sleep, little rest, little peace for many a sufferer from kidney trouble. Life is one continual round of pain. You can't rest at night where there's kidney backache. You suffer twinges and "stabs" of pain, annoying urinary disorders, lameness and nervousness. You can't be comfortable at work with darting pains and blinding dizzy spells. Neglect these ailments and serious troubles may follow. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of disorder. Thousands have testified to their merit.

Proof of merit in Paris testimony: Phillip M. Heller, proprietor, meat market, 722 Main street, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a few times in the past and have been greatly benefited. At times my back was weak and lame, and the kidney secretions passed too freely, making me get up often at night. I have used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at these times and they have always rid me of the complaint. I think they are a splendid medicine and gladly recommend them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Heller had. Foster-Milburn Co., Manufacturers, Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

CORRECT TIME FOR EVERY HOME.

A New York State electric-light and power company has devised a new electric clock system by which it can supply an electric time service to any of its customers. An inexpensive electric clock which can be connected by a flexible cord to any lighting socket is supplied, and all these clocks are automatically synchronized with an electric clock at the central station which keeps them on the exact time. The householder can thus eliminate the labor of winding and setting his clock, and is assured of the correct time any hour.

Among the most popular fiction is the story about some people having more money than they know what to do with.

Used First Sewing Machine.

The first woman in America to use a sewing machine died at Winsted, in Connecticut, at the age of eighty-six. She was Miss Elizabeth Kibbourn, who in the fifties was a teacher in a private school at New Hartford. When Elias Howe was experimenting with his invention, he asked her to help him, and so to her fell the honor of being the first to use the new machine.

CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS

Chamberlain's Tablets are intended especially for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation, and have met with much success in the treatment of those diseases. People who have suffered for years with stomach trouble and have been unable to obtain any permanent relief, have been completely cured by the use of these tablets. Chamberlain's Tablets are also of great value for biliousness. Chronic constipation may be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and observing the plain printed directions with each bottle. (adv-dec)

RICHARD W. KNOTT, LOUISVILLE POST EDITOR, DEAD.

Richard Wilson Knott, 63, editor and publisher of The Louisville Evening Post and of The Home and Farm, an agricultural paper, died suddenly at his home in Louisville of heart failure. He was lying down while his wife read to him, when he suddenly became ill. He died before the arrival of a physician.

Mr. Knott had been ill for more than a year, but his condition had not been regarded as serious and his end was entirely unexpected. He went home Friday night after attending to his duties at his office and his wife was reading to him when the end came.

Mr. Knott started his newspaper career in Louisville with the Courier-Journal and was employed as editorial writer when he took over The Evening Post. Under his management the paper has always been a profitable piece of property, but has been famous for the many sides of the political fence on which it has been. In the last few years The Post has been Democratic, but actively opposed to Governor Stanley.

Mr. Knott was born in Frankfort 68 years ago. He married Miss Jennie A. Gilmore. One son, Richard G. Knott, and a daughter, Mrs. McGhee Stokes, of Gunnison, Miss., survive. Four brothers, John R., E. P., W. T. and Stuart R. also survive him.

GOVERNMENT WANTS THIRTY-FIVE KENTUCKY BRICKLAYERS

Provost Marshal General Crowder has notified Governor Stanley that Kentucky's quota of the 1,000 bricklayers needed by General Pershing in thirty-five men. Local exemption boards are required to examine questionnaires now being returned and report as soon as possible on the number of bricklayers of draft age available for service. Only white bricklayers will be accepted for this service. Kentucky's quota will be sent to the aviation section, Signal Corps, at Kelley Field, San Antonio, Texas.

A WHITE CHRISTMAS.

A white Christmas surprised Kentucky, by arriving before daylight December 25. It was a pleasant surprise to the boys who received sleds for Christmas gifts, and to the many—old and young—who are still young enough to love the sight of snow more than they dislike the inconvenience, but the temperature bit hard into the fuel piles of the many who this year find cold weather an exceptional hardship. Perhaps cold weather is a germicide, and maybe a hard winter is for the best taken by and large, despite the fuel shortage and the high prices, but to everyone who must supply a home on a modest income December, 1917, is proving an exacting month. Such persons will hope that a good deal of early cold weather will mean milder weather later in the winter and an early spring. Such persons were not in a mood to relish a white Christmas followed by weather exceptionally cold for the season.—State Journal.

THE JANUARY WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION.

The New Year's number of the Woman's Home Companion is filled with many interesting and stimulating articles and stories. Margaret Deland, the well known author, has written an article about the "Three S's," which she says are Sacrifice, Substitute and Save. "Soldier's All," the Patriotic Department being conducted by Mrs. Richardson, tells many interesting things and gives many helpful ideas. The number is especially rich in fiction, "The Golden Block" by Sophie Kerr, finishing in this number. In addition, there are stories by Elizabeth Jordan, Ruth Sawyer and other well known authors.

Grace Margaret Gould's Bulletin Board gives many helpful hints, as does the rest of her Fashion Department. The Pin-Money Club will help you to earn money, and all the other usual departments are up to their monthly standard, helping to round out an unusual number.

Shakespeare and the Bible.

Whatever his faults and limitations, Shakespeare will live forever. Dr. George W. Carey has said: "Shakespeare probed the depths of human possibilities, analyzed the stuff from which thoughts are made, turned the searchlight of incomparable genius on the records of the soul, painted its deeds on the canvas of life, and left it naked and ashamed." Shakespeare and the Bible will survive, after all our current literature is forgotten.—Los Angeles Times.

Now the Kaiser is credited with a plan to restore the Czar, who wanted to rush his Cossacks to Berlin. Our own view is that the Wilhelmie band is broken forever.

TECHNIQUE.

The star actor, unable to restrain his mirth at the astounding satin decollete worn by his leading woman in the scene where she, a street wail, pleads with him to give her a farthing, that she and her widowed mother may not starve, turned his back to the audience. So uncontrollable were his chuckles that his shoulders heaved up and down, and his head shook, and his neck got red, and his eyes watered.

"A master of the acting technique," thought the audience. "How wonderfully he expresses the emotional outburst of grief!"—George Jean Nathan in Puck.

STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION.

Those who are afflicted with stomach trouble and constipation should read the following: "I have never found anything so good for stomach trouble and constipation as Chamberlain's Tablets. I have used them off and on now for the past two years. They not only regulate the action of the bowels but stimulate the liver and keep one's body in a healthy condition," writes Mrs. Benjamin Hooper, Auburn, N. Y.

The Real Thing.

It makes a fellow step higher when some big man says of him: "He is the smartest man in this town!" But that is nothing by the side of having a little chap snuggle up to your side and whisper softly, "I like you! You're so good to me!"—Farm Life.

HOW TO PREVENT CROUP.

NEWS OF WOMEN'S WORK INTERESTING TO CLUB WOMEN.

Girls In War Work.

Our modern industrial revolution, brought about by the substitution of machine labor for hand labor, has profoundly affected the labor world of women. Where once only a few thousand were engaged in wage earning occupations outside the home, now there are millions employed in all the industries listed by our Census Department, except six or seven.

On this account the war found women trained to efficiency in many lines, and our Government recognized this from the first. We are told by the highest authority that a million girls in this country have already gone into new positions created by the war, multitudes of them moving into new places, away from the comfort and protection of home.

We know how heroically the women of Great Britain and France have taken the places in the great munition plants made vacant by enlisted men, and that much of the ammunition used on the Western front today has been manufactured by women. Women have not yet entered into the munition factories in our country in such great numbers. The first draft of men did not leave large vacancies in factory work, but the second draft will call more of those men to the colors, and, if a third draft comes, the women and girls will have to take up the work laid down by the men. A great munition plant that employs 12,000 men has as yet but fifty girls in its factories, but the company recently informed the War Work Council of the Young Women's Christian Association that it was planning to build dormitories for 400 young women, and that it would probably have to make provision for one thousand more in the near future. A big munition plant advertised not long ago, "2,000 Girls Wanted At Once," and another issued a call for "1,200 Women Employees." Word has come recently that 1,500 girls are at work in a cartridge factory in the Middle West, where there are no adequate living accommodations. The Association worker there reports that the girls very often sleep three in a bed, and that the beds are never empty day or night.

We are told that in England there was not a direct replacement of men by women in the factories until the war was a year old. We may rest assured that the entrance of our young womanhood into these munition plants in ever increasing numbers is a matter of a few months.

We may say, broadly and truly, that young women are essential to all kinds of production, necessitated by the war. More than 2,000 have been called to meet the increased business of the Federal Departments at Washington. Last week a letter came to Lexington from the Ordnance Department there, asking for 300 young women to do clerical work, not only typewriting, but indexing, filing, cataloguing, accounting and statistical work; they also wanted 300 stenographers immediately.

Women and girls are making uniforms, shoes and all necessary clothing for our soldiers and sailors. A newspaper man from Lexington was in Charleston, S. C., a short time ago, and saw one thousand girls in one building, making clothing for our army, who were all compelled to sleep in that same building because adequate sleeping quarters could not be found elsewhere. Women are making food stuffs and utensils for camps. They are working in the camps as laundresses, telephone operators, typewriters and stenographers. Above all, there is a noble army of nurses ministering to the sick in our cantonment hospitals, just as the Red Cross is serving the wounded and dying on the battle fronts. The problem of providing housing, food, recreation and companionship for these patriotic workers has suddenly faced many an unprepared community.

A call for help to meet these emergency conditions has come to the Young Women's Christian Association from many quarters. A large part of their War Fund Work is to be devoted to answering the thronging petitions for the welfare and protection of these girls, thrust out into new and strange work and surroundings. The Association has already opened up boarding houses, social centers, bureaus, places for rest and recreation; all with experienced workers in charge, in forty-six different communities, and many more are planned.

We have been engaged in campaigns for Liberty Loans, Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross—all splendid and needed enterprises—but here is a work that should have a unique appeal to women, because it is for the protection of young womanhood of our country. It can be done by no one but women, for who knows that mysterious and sacred thing, the heart of a young girl, with its new impulses to a fuller life, but the mothers of the race?

This War Work of the Young Women's Christian Association, the one organization in our land that has the equipment, the experience and the ideals of deal adequately with these great problems, is a clear call to every woman in Kentucky. Shall we not answer it worthily, rejoicing that we can bear a part in so noble and patriotic an enterprise?

IDA W. HARRISON,
Chairman of the Kentucky Division of the War Work Council of the Young Women's Christian Association.

For Our Girls.

Next Wednesday, January 2nd, at the court house, at 3 p. m., Mrs. Ida Withers Harrison will speak to all who may be interested in the War Relief Work being done by the Young Women's Christian Association.

Both the Young Men's and the Young Women's Associations have fallen heir to a few problems connected with our present crisis that demand all the statesmanship and skill to which these associations have access.

The morale of the soldier must in a degree depend upon the morale of our girls.

This work is for the protection and guidance of the girls who visit the camps, for those employed therein or nearby, for those who have been called suddenly into industrial work and for the relief of our nurses at the front in France.

Patriotism demands that you hear this address. Your daughter or sister may be sheltered to-day, but who can speak for to-morrow?

No admission, no collection. Come and learn of conditions. (Signed)

The Paris Literary Club sets aside its regular program for Red Cross work.

BOARD OF HEALTH REORGANIZED.

The Bourbon County Board of Health effected an organization Friday at a meeting held in the office of the Bourbon Real Estate Exchange. Mr. Ossian Edwards was elected President, and Dr. A. H. Keller Secretary. The full Board is now composed of the two officers named above, and Ossian Edwards, Charles N. Fithian and Jo. Varden. The Board re-elected Dr. A. H. Keller to the position of City Health Officer.

Dr. Keller has made one of the best officials the Health Department has ever had. Despite adverse and often malicious criticism he has adhered strictly to his line of duty and has not hesitated to conflict with politicians and busybodies in doing his duty as he saw it before him. The people of Paris owe him a vote of thanks for his past conduct of office and their united support in the future.

BREEDERS TO CONSIDER PLANS FOR RED CROSS.

Mr. Arthur B. Hancock, of Paris, Chairman of the committee appointed by the Kentucky Thoroughbred Association to solicit funds for the Red Cross issued a call yesterday to the members of the committee for a meeting to be held in the Phoenix Hotel, at Lexington, to-day.

Every Kentucky owner of a thoroughbred mare has been urged by Mr. Hancock to be present at this meeting and present his views on how the thoroughbred interests of the State shall raise the $300,000 pledged to the Red Cross.

It is understood that the committee favors obtaining the money by levying a certain amount on each filly and mare four years old and over owned on a certain date. Plans will be worked out at the meeting to-day. Mr. Hancock is anxious to have the views of all breeders concerning the best methods of raising the money.

PATRIOTIC, THOUGH AILEN.

Isaac Eurove, a native of Kief, Russia, who came to Paris four years ago to work at his trade as baker, has set an example in patriotism that could be well followed by some who vociferously proclaim their Americanism.

Although Eurove has not yet become a naturalized citizen of this country, he waived all claims for exemptions in his questionnaire returned to the Bourbon County Board of Exemption. Eurove will remain in America and has announced his intention to fight for America and Democracy in the war against oppression and militarism. Eurove made his first application for citizenship papers at Frankfort last April. By nature and training thrifty, he has accumulated a nice bank account and property in Paris.

COMMUNITY PROGRAM POSTPONED.

The Community Program arranged for the last night of the Old Year at the Young Men's Christian Association building was reluctantly postponed by the management on account of the severe weather and shortage of coal, which made it impossible to properly heat the room. The death of Mr. Smith's little daughter also made it seem fitting to give up the celebration, as Mr. Smith had charge of the various gymnasium events. The Association desires at a later date to entertain the public in a series of attractive programs of this nature and will do so as soon as the conditions will permit.

If Secretary Lansing doesn't stop he will leave no "original and unpublished documents" for future writers of memoirs.

Probably one of our knottiest war problems is to find out how to make a woman believe she looks patriotic in last year's clothes.

The return of moderate temperatures can do more than Dr. Garfield toward solving the coal problem.

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS.

THE NEWS extends greeting this New Year's Day to its readers, to its friends and well-wishers, and to one and all we wish the new year that began at midnight may be one of happiness and prosperity.

Let your first resolution be if you are not a subscriber, to have your name placed on our list, and each one of the one hundred and four issues of THE NEWS will come to you regularly. You couldn't begin 1918 in a better way.

New Year's is a grand, an inspiring occasion, for it is always saturated with hope. We are wont to scoff and deride it as a day when men make good resolutions only to break them; when they turn over new leaves, as it is called, then calmly turn them back again. They want, they hope to be so much better, and a few of them are so. They determine to advance, and if they do advance they slip back. Their failures are many, they are continuous, and they often excite laughter. But it is worthier to determine and decline, to hope and be disappointed, than not to determine or to hope at all.

Therefore, let us welcome the New Year for what it promises to give, and let's all try to make a better Paris. As in the past, THE NEWS will be found trying to do its share at all times. We want to be counted on to do anything at any time that will help to advance the best interests of Paris and its citizens.

A Happy and Prosperous New Year to one and all! May you live long and prosper!

THINGS TO WORRY ABOUT.

One of the strangest things that has been brought to the attention of THE NEWS man is the fact that Theodore P. "Toppy" Nix, of Paris, and President Woodrow Wilson, of Washington, D. C., were born on the same day, December 28, 1856. "Toppy" says that he appreciates the honor of having his natal day come on the same day as the President's, but he cannot understand how Woodrow got so far ahead of him in the race of life. "Toppy" sent the President a letter of congratulation, and reminded him that in these strenuous times if he needed a good friend he could rely on him.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS

An examination for clerk-carrier to fill a vacancy in the Paris office will be held at the local postoffice on January 12. Full information may be obtained by applying to William Clarke, local Secretary of the Civil Service Commission, at the Paris postoffice.

An examination for clerks with a knowledge of stenography and type-writing will be held on the same date at the same place. Prospective applicants should write to the Secretary of the Civil Service Commission at Cincinnati, for full particulars of the requirements and qualifications necessary.

FOOD CONSERVATION CATECHISM.

1. Why was the U. S. Food Administration organized?

To provide the needed supplies and to prevent the waste of food.

2. Why is such an organization necessary?

Because there is a food shortage in Europe. The people of Finland, Roumania, Serbia, Denmark, Sweden, and Holland are asking us for food. We have been helping to feed the starving population of Belgium since the war began, and our allies, England, France and Italy are calling upon us for supplies. Food in America must be properly handled in order that we may be able to send abroad as much food as possible.

3. What is the cause of the food shortage in Europe?

During the three years of war, between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 men have been killed in battle. These men were drawn from the farms and other domestic industries. In the armies at the front are many millions more. Add to these the thousands at work in munitions plants, and the fact that many of the most productive farms of Europe have been turned into battle fields. With farms destroyed and farmers, cattle raisers, and millers taken from their daily pursuits to fight for life and liberty, the food shortage is a natural result.

4. Is it a fact that the people of Europe are dying of starvation?

Yes. In Belgium where we have been able to help the most, the death rate has gone up over five times the rate in midsummer. The little children and the old people are dying off rapidly. It is the same in the other countries that have been devastated by war. The occupying armies suck out the life blood, the food supply.

5. How can we help these starving people?

If children dying of starvation stretched out their bony hands for the food you are eating, you would not hesitate, you would give it all, at once. The Food Administration does not ask you to do this. It does not ask you to sacrifice yourself, but simply to see that all waste is stopped, that every particle of food is made the most of, in order that there may be a larger surplus to send abroad.

6. How may waste be prevented?

In a large way, by the U. S. Food Administration, who control the movement of crops, watching the speculators in the markets, and the large handlers of food products.

In a small way by every individual who sees that no waste is permitted in the kitchen, the garbage pile, the shops, or on the farm.

7. What is the best food to send abroad?

The foods that keep well, and white flour. Perishable foods should be consumed at home.

Eat fish and other sea food, poultry and rabbits, instead of beef, mutton and pork. Fish, chicken, etc., cannot be shipped in compact form like meat, and are more perishable. Do not use either beef, mutton or pork more than once a day. Keep them to send abroad. Have one meatless day a week on Tuesday, and one wheatless day on Wednesday, and in addition make Saturday a porkless day.

8. Why should we eat less wheat?

Europe is suffering for wheat. We have already sent them the surplus of the 1917 harvest. It is far from enough. We are powerless to relieve all the suffering, but we can send what we are willing to save from our own tables. See that no wheat is wasted. Have at least one meal a day without wheat bread. Use instead corn, oat, barley or mixed cereal breads. Eat less cake and pastry.

9. Why not send the surplus of our corn crop to Europe?

We cannot send them corn because they have not enough mills to grind it and are not familiar with its use as food. Even if they knew how to use corn meal, it is not suitable for shipment because it is so liable to spoiling. The oats, rye, barley, etc., that we send them will not support them unless mixed with wheat.

We must send them more wheat, and to do this, we must eat less wheat bread.

10. What is needed besides meat and wheat?

Fats and sugar.

The American people are the greatest fat wasters in the world. In 1916 the fat consumption per capita in the United States was 125 pounds, which is more than three times the amount provided by the Standard Balance Ration, and seven times what the war ration allows the German people. Fats are useful in many ways in the production of munitions and other things needed to win the war. We must stop wasting fats when our soldiers and sailors and our fighting associates need them so desperately.

Use no butter in cooking. Cook with olive or cottonseed oils instead. Save lard by frying in vegetable fat or oil.

Try to use all left-over fats in cooking, but if there is some you cannot use, save it carefully, make scrubbing soap out of it, or sell it to the soap maker.

11. Why is there a sugar shortage?

Before the war, France, Italy and Belgium raised all their own sugar. Great Britain bought sugar from Germany.

Now France, Italy and Belgium cannot raise much sugar because their men are fighting, and Great Britain cannot buy sugar where she used to buy it.

All must now get sugar where we get it, and there is not enough to go around unless we save.

Save your cake and candy for the starving children abroad.

Eat half as much sweets as before and you still eat more than the Englishman or Frenchman or Italian or Belgian gets.

Use honey, maple syrup, corn syrup and sorghum instead of sugar.

12. What does the Food Administration ask in order that we may save the food needed to send to Europe?

One wheatless day each week and wheatless meal each day; the wheatless day to be Wednesday. By wheatless we mean to eat no wheat products.

One meatless day each week, which shall be Tuesday, and one meatless meal each day. By meatless we mean to eat no red meat—beef, pork, mutton, veal, lamb; no preserved meat—beef, bacon, ham or lard.

One porkless day each week in addition to Tuesday, which shall be Saturday. By porkless we mean no fresh or salted pork, bacon, lard or ham.

The answer of the patriots, be they men or women, to this request of the Food Administration is the simple, "We will." Consider the sacrifices it entails for us compared with the sacrifices that may be made in our behalf by the boys who enlist in our National Armies.

WHEN DO FASHIONS CHANGE?

This very curious question is given a logical interpretation in the January issue of Good Housekeeping. To quote:

"The question is about as easy to answer as that old conundrum, 'How old is Ann?' But, as a matter of fact, the best answer would be that fashions are always changing, and it is the subtle, little change that comes between seasons that frequently gives the note of the more radical change that comes with the turn of the season—be it spring or autumn. Just now the winter fashions are at their height."

"One is struck by two things. First, the simplicity that marks the really well-dressed woman; and second, the lavish use of fur. Logically enough, there is a war-time feeling that we should be moderate in dress, and this moderation is to be noticed—but, owing to the cold in Paris, furs have been employed for the reason for which they were originally intended, warmth. And we here have followed this fashion, not alone for its warmth, but for its beauty. Castor and nutria are worn more than any other fur, and are universally becoming."

The article is concluded with a number of very practical illustrations and suggestions.

ITALY IN THE AIR.

In spite of distractions along the northern front, Italy is maintaining supremacy in new air developments. One of her pilots recently completed a significant record-breaking flight when he flew with a passenger from Rome to London without a stop. The distance was 656 miles, and it was made in a little more than seven hours. The Italian Caproni machines are becoming well-known in the United States, as a result of the New York-Washington flights. The Rome-to-London passage was not made in a Caproni, but an Alfa.

OLIVE THOMAS TO VISIT NEW YORK.

AIRPLANE BULLETS.

The fighting airplane is equipped with a greater variety of bullets than any other single fighting machine used in war. There are four principal types supplied to the standard German fighting plane. They are the ordinary bullet, intended to target on the enemy pilot, a special perforating bullet with hardened casting, to penetrate metal parts, an explosive bullet to wreck the power plant, and an incendiary bullet which will explode the petrol tank if properly placed.

MEETING POET THOS. MOORE

Mrs. E. M. Ward in Her Reminiscences Relates First Opportunity to Gain His Acquaintance.

The poet, Thomas Moore, was a most lovable character, and so kind, declares Mrs. E. M. Moore in her "Reminiscences," that he was never known to speak harshly about anyone. She tells the story of their first meeting, at the time when her father was painting the poet's portrait and when she was a very small girl.

Mr. Moore lived some distance from Fitzroy square, says the author, and it was doubtful whether he could walk as far as our house. That was very disappointing to me, for my parents' frequent allusion to the poet had increased my anxiety to see him. But at last the long-desired opportunity came. One day, when I was playing in the square, I suddenly saw the queerest of little men in the queerest of rough beaver hats on a very big head. Instinct told me that this must be Thomas Moore coming to pay the long-desired visit, and I rushed indoors and informed my parents.

Of course I was ridiculed. Since I had never seen the poet, how did I know it was he? Besides, he was much too decrepit to walk so far. It was absurd, preposterous! Then the front doorbell rang. Moore was announced, and it was my turn to laugh.

I can see him now as he appeared to me then, a stout little man dressed in a tall coat, with a high collar. He had a fascinatingly clever and shrewdly kind face, the face that cheers men's lives and frightens no one.

Before he was in the house many minutes he had me seated on his knee. "What is my name?" he inquired. "Tell me, my dear, do you know who I am?"

"You are Tommy-Moore," I said with a laugh; "little Tommy Moore," and then, catching the look of horror on my mother's face, I grew suddenly grave, and said with great decorum, "Mr. Moore."

The sudden change in my manner displeased the poet, and he said quietly: "Try again, girl; try again!" Upon which I cried out with great glee:

"Little Tommy Moore! Little Tommy Moore!"

Moore was delighted, and the friendship that had come within an ace of dissolution was forthwith permanently renewed.

HAS BIBLE PRINTED IN 1620

St. Paul Woman Possesses Relic Yellow and Wormeaten, Which Has Been Carried Through Many Wars.

A Bible printed in 1620, the year the Pilgrims landed in America, is in the possession of Mrs. May L. Abbott of St. Paul. It is worn and bent from being carried for many years in a soldier's knapsack, as well as yellowed and wormeaten from the passage through nearly three centuries. The book was purchased by Mrs. Abbott's husband, the late William L. Abbott.

"Printed at London by Bonham Norton and John Bill, Prints to the King's Most Excellent Majesty, Anno Domini 1620," is the announcement the title page carries, and the excellent workmanship of the volume proves the ability of its early producers.

The Bible, Mrs. Abbott says, could tell interesting tales if it had the gift of speech. It was carried through the peninsular campaign in Spain, at the battle of Waterloo, at the battle of New Orleans, and at earlier battles in this country by Sgt. William Kay of Nottingham, England. Inserted in its pages are sheets bearing a recommendation of Sergeant Kay for a pension.

He gave it in 1870 to William Holmes of St. Paul, who was its owner until its sale to Mr. Abbott.

Shelters in the Stone Age.

An Arab tribe in Palestine still occupy the mountain caves, and a tribe of cliff dwellers has been recently found in Mexico, writes a correspondent.

The conical hut of the reindeer epoch, built of branches and twigs, succeeded the cave. The main prop of these earlier huts was a tree, around which branches were fastened, the spaces between the twigs being filled up with rushes, turf, grass and clay.

Man was then able to cut wood with stone axes, to combine various elements for his protection and defense, and to become a more powerful aggressor in the animal kingdom. It was a step, and but a step, in advance.

Then followed, the third and last period of the stone age, represented by the cavernous dwellings constructed of gigantic monolithic stone, and roofed over with the rough branches and trunks of trees.

The famous dolmens, cromlechs and similar gigantic structures of stone, hitherto supposed to be the work of the Druids, are now believed to be the remains of the neolithic age.

Wireless Intuition.

The dictionary says hunch, a word of Teutonic origin, means to push suddenly, to jog or shove, as with the elbow. Hence, a hunch is a sudden knowledge that pushes one into a decision or an action, in short, a forewarning. It is intuition, but of a special kind; one may have intuitive knowledge that could not be called a hunch because it does not move to sudden and decisive action. Confidence in intuition needs no justification; perhaps then, the following of hunches, or wireless intuition, if the term is permissible, should not be condemned.

Pearlshell, Feather, Fur Money.

Pearlshell money is used in Burma and Siam, and feather money, manufactured from the short red feathers from beneath the wings of a species of parrot, is the ordinary currency of the Santa Cruz Islanders. The Loyalty Islands, which lie in the Pacific to the east of Australia, are famous for their fur money. The fur, which is taken from behind the ears of the so-called "flying fox," in reality a large fruit-eating bat, is woven into cords of various lengths, and these constitute the ordinary currency of the islanders.

Acids Endanger Ships.

Shipmasters dislike carrying drums of acid where they cannot be reached readily. A Chilean ship, the Japan Advertiser says, recently put in at the Falkland Islands leaking badly. Her cargo was made up of drums of acid and chalk. The acid had leaked from the drums and mixed with the chalk, forming carbonic acid gas in the hold. This gas is deadly and the crew could not make repairs. Meantime the acid had gathered at the bottom of the hold and eaten away the iron frames of the ship.

Teach Feet to Point Straight.

The human foot is wonderful in its formation; the 26 bones and intricate arrangement of muscles make it susceptible of a high degree of training, as one observes in fancy skating and ballet dancing. But it is sadly hampered in its practical activity by being encased in leather and having to support the weight of as well as to propel the body forward. To overcome this as far as possible we should learn to walk with the feet pointing practically straight.

To Renew Linoleum.

When linoleum becomes worn, polish it with prepared liquid wax. Dampen an old piece of woolen underwear with a tablespoonful of the wax and rub the linoleum with it as if you were scrubbing the floor. Polish with a dry woolen cloth until it shines. This renews the faded colors. After the first coat of wax, the linoleum may be polished daily with a waxed cloth fastened to a mop handle, thus saving the housekeeper from scrubbing the floors.

One of the strangest things in this world is how much cheaper butter was when the roads were so bad the farmers couldn't come to town.

French Deputy is of the opinion the final battle will be fought in the air. Think is very likely. That's where Germany's peace terms are.

GREETINGS

To our patrons and the public of Paris and Bourbon county, we desire to extend our most hearty thanks for the very liberal patronage accorded us during the year just closing. Within the last three weeks our switch-board operators have handled a load equally 75 per cent. in excess of ordinary conditions, and was attributed to bad conditions of roads. Christmas shopping and war traffic, which accounted for any seeming slowness in the service, but with this new record of information our future plans will be to meet such emergencies with only a limited amount of delay in regular traffic.

Our operators desire to thank those who so kindly remembered them, and join us in wishing you a very prosperous and HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Mobilizing a Nation's Fighting Strength

Great military cities have sprung up all over the land; and linking these training camps, aviation fields, coast defenses, naval stations and even most remote points where our forces are gathering, is the Universal Bell Telephone system—linking each with the other and all with the departments at Washington.

Upon the declaration of war the Bell system was placed unreservedly at the disposal of the government, whose already enormous demands for telephone service are continually increasing. Likewise, unprecedented are the service requirements of private business, which necessarily must be subordinated in times of emergency.

So far as the local service is concerned we are not only unable to increase our revenue by accepting a volume of new business, but we are in the awkward position of seeing our service suffer and our present patrons inconvenienced. The delays and inconveniences due to the congestion are more embarrassing to us than to the public.

Any sacrifice we may make is accepted cheerfully and if our difficulties are reflected in your telephone service, we ask that you bear this in mind.

The patriotic American public can co-operate most effectively with the government by discouraging unnecessary use of the telephone.

CRONE—FITHIAN.

To the scribe who inspected the

County Clerk Pearce Paton last Thursday, the entry therein of the

POLICE COURT BUSINESS.

Business in Judge January's court for the month of November was about the lightest that tribunal has experienced for years. Judge January's report submitted at the recent meeting of the City Council showed that only five cases were tried in that month, and that the fines assessed amounted to only $26.00, with collections for the same time of only $41.Luxburg's latest dispatches indicate that all honor was sunk without a trace.
